Evangelical Conference.

Letter from Pere Hyacinthe on Christian Unity.

INTERESTING ADDRESSES.

"The Relation of the Church to the State" Discussed.

Letter from Pere Hyacinthe.

NEW YORK, October 9.—Pere Hyacinthe's letter to the members of the Evangelical Alliance is published. He says he is united by faith in the same Christ and only Son of God and Redeemer of men. "You are laboring to bring together on common ground the different Christian confessions, which have been so sadly and until now so irremediab y separate. My ambition, I confess, is still higher. Where you are satisfied with an alliance, I would desire an organic and vital unity. I believe this unity to be in the future destinies of the Christian Church."

Address by Henry Ward Beecher.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, in his address, last evening at Booklyn, of welcome to the delegates of the Evangelical Alliance, said: If it were an extermination of sects that was sought by this convocation, if that was the philosophy, I certainly should not be of it, for I do not think it would be wise to exterminate the sects and bring the Church into one great phalanstery any more than it is beneficial to society to bring together all the great families into one phalanstery. We get along very well, and allow men to keep house as they want to.

At Association Hall.

The session in Association Hall was opened by prayer in the usual form, and Rev. Dr. Prime announced that the farewell address would be made by Rev. Dr. Schenck, in the Academy of Music, on Sunday evening next, and that meetings would likewise be held in Tammany Hall and Steinway Hall, free to all who can get in. A German meeting on the same evening will be held in Cooper Institute. Announcement was also made that tickets for home were ready for the delegates at the different shipping offices.

The first paper read was on "The Church and the Nation," by Rev. W. H. Freemantle, of London. He argued that in a Christian nature the Church and the State are identical, and there can be no alliance between them, for they are not independent powers. He believes that in the future the pulpit will speak more of civil government and law, and Legislatures will feel more the influence of religion. The judges and the magistrates are the true elders of this day, and in the Scripture the authority of the rules as come from God is more insisted upon than that of the teacher.

The afternoon session of the Evangelical Alliance at Association Hall was devoted to a free discussion of the general topic of the day, on the relation of the Church to the State.

Mr. Brunot, of Pittsburgh, was the first speaker, and said he was surprised that such an aggregate of thought should be expressed without striking against the thoughts of others. He said that the Constitution of the United States is one appropriate for all sects and creeds, even Mohammedan. Therefore he blushed for it. He believed in closer unity of the Church with the State.

Rev. Mr. Robinson, of Philadelphia followed and said that many European natives are trying to work up to our American model. If this be true, it concerns us what that model shall be. He said that our Government was strictly a religious Government. Our law of marriage was a Christian law. Blasphemy is an offence against statute law. The Christian religion is part of the common law of our Government. Religious worship is recognized by it. Our Legislatures and National Senate are open to prayer. Public feasts and thanksgivings are established by the Government. A christian oath is administered in civil courts, and by it our civil officers are qualified. Our system of education is purely a Christian one. We have bibles in our schools, except in a few places, where bigotry has caused their expulsion.

Rev. Geo. W. Grant, of Scotland, followed, after which the Dean of Canterbury expressed the idea that what was practicable in this country is not so in England.

Rev. Mr. Burnett, of Ireland, and Rev. Bishop Simpson then spoke. The latter said that the Alliance had not assembled to make a Constitution for the United States or the Church of England.

Dr. English, of Scotland, Rev. Mr. McCook, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Geo. H. Stewart, of Philadelphia, concluded the list of speakers.

At St. Paul's Church.

The second section of the Evangelical Alliance met in St. Paul's Church, Dr. Crooks presiding. The general topic was "Christianity and Liberty." W. H. Campbell, D. D., of New York, read a paper on the influence of Christianity on civil and religious liberty.

He was followed by Dr. Curry, of Richmond, who spoke enthusiastically in favor of the separation of Church and State, captivating the heart and ear of his audience. He was in full flow of his discourse when the bell rang "time," and he sat down. The audience called loudly for him to go on, but the Chairman stated that there were many invited guests to be heard, and for Mr. Curry to go on would be discourteous and unchristian.

Notwithstanding the explanation, calls for "Curry," "Curry," rang through the church, and the Doctor rose, and said that while recognizing the rule limiting the time of a speaker, he must emphatically protest against being stigmatized by the Chairman as discourteous and unchristian.

The calls for "Curry" and the stamping of feet now became deafening, but the chairman succeeded in making himself heard sufficiently to say that a foreign delegate had pronounced the discussion very painful to him.

A hymn was then sung and the storm was lulled, after which Prof. Goodwin spoke on the effect of civil and religious liberty upon Christianity.

Rev. Mr. Davis, President Woolsey, ex-President Hopkins, Rev. Mr. Mensie, of Scotland, and others, made addresses, and Charles Reade and Rev. Mr. Gudlestone were announced as representatives of the London Workingmen's Lord's Day Rest Association.

At the Church of the Disciples.

The session of the Evangelical Alliance was held to-night at the Church of the Disciples, corner of Madison avenue and Forty-fifth street, Hon. George H. Stuart, of Philadelphia, presided, and many eminent divines were on the platform, amongst them being Dr. Hugh Miller, of Scotland, Bishop Cummins, Rev. Jno. Hall, Prof. Baird, Rev. Drs. Hepworth and Armitage. The church was filled to its utmost capacity.

The subjects for discussion were "Free churches on the continent of Europe" and "Ministerial Support." A paper was read on the former subject by Prof. J. F. Astie, of Switzerland. The speaker reviewed the whole system of the establishment and support of churches throughout Europe as contrasted with America, and argued that it has always been found that where churches are not supported by the State they thrive better, the members no doubt feeling it incumbent on themselves to be more liberal and energetic than where endowment is the rule.

Several hymns were sung, after which the Rev. Mr. Hall opened the discussion of "Ministerial Support."

At Olivet Chapel.

At a meeting of the City Mission to-night at Olivet Chapel, Rev. Mr. Knox, of Ireland, made a short address, giving his experience in city mission work in Belfast. Ireland. He urged ministers not to confine themselves to the pulpit, but to visit the poor in their homes, and there preach the Word.

Rev. Narayan Sheshadra, of Bombay, India, was introduced. He spoke of the degrading character of the caste idea prevalent in India. The influence of Christianity in England and this country astonishes him. No castes. No grades.

In speaking of Europeans resident there, who, since the introduction of railroads and telegraphs, have increased prodigiously, he said: "As a class they are a worthless, whisky drinking people. Their example is detrimental to the cause of Christianity." He recommends an emigration of sober, steady mechanics, whose influence would be favorable.

UNFORTUNATE EXPERIMENT.

Story of a Boy, a Dog and a Kite.

Young Archibald Singerly, of Germantown, has been unfortunate. He read in one of the papers that "when the boys of Virginia City wish to raise their kites, they tie the strings to a dog's tail and make the animal run." It occurred to young Mr. Singerly that as this proceeding was conducted upon a sound rational basis, he would experiment in the same direction. The difficulty encountered by Mr. Singerly at the outset was that he had an extremely large kite and a mournfully small dog, and the conclusion of the undertaking may therefore be anticipated, especially when we intimate that the wind was high. The residents of the neighborhood were surprised to see a dog rushing backward down the street, with considerable velocity, clawing and scratching at the earth for a hold, and emitting ejaculatory howls, as if he cherished a secret preference for going in the other direction. And they were even more amazed to perceive that he appeared to be anchored to something in the heavens. But there was not time for investigation. In a moment a cyclone or something of the kind struck the kite, and before Archibald Singerly could utter a scream, his dog had performed about one-third of the journey to the milky way. It is supposed that the bird's-eye view enjoyed by that animal must have been magnificent, embracing, as it did, Mount Airy, Conshohocken, Savannah, St. Petersburg and Pekin, with numerous smaller towns and villages. But the precise amount of felicity obtained by Singerly's dog while dangling amid the planetary system will perhaps never be ascertained, unless Singerly meets his victim in a better world. For as the kite came sailing down, the string caught in the vane of a church steeple, became tangled, and held Singerly's dog in permanent suspense. They tried to blow him loose with a shot-gun, and they succeeded in producing a shower of sausage meat after each discharge; but when the dog had been all shot away, his tail remained, pointing due north, and refusing to come down. Any one who has a good dog can hear something to his advantage by applying at Singerly's. Old Mr. Singerly would prefer a bob-taile dog.

THE NEW OIL COUNTRY.

Modoc and the Recent Developments—Enterprise—Some Estimates—The Oil Fever—A New Railroad—The Production.

Special Correspondence of the Gazette.

PARKER, October 8.—A year ago the whole of Butler county was as quiet as the outer townships of the same county now are, the quiet, plodding everyday life of the farmers being undisturbed by the influence or contact with the restless throng of driving business men, who have now gained almost complete control of the business of producing oil. Then there were few people that had much faith in the productiveness of oil lands as far south as Butler, although the logic of past experience pointed unmistakably to the basin of Butler as possible oil fields of unrivaled productiveness. A few restless speculators had even then invaded the dense forests or the sleepy farm house, prospecting over the surface, or making inquiries of owners, which frequently resulted in a purchase or the securing of a leasehold upon what the speculator deemed a valuable piece of property for developments. But all this has changed within less than a twelve month, and the bustling activity characteristic of an oil town, or of an oil district, is manifest on every hand as one crosses the line of Armstrong county, intent upon an expedition of discovery in this comparatively unknown country; for the natural resources of the country seem to be almost unknown to the people of the region, and unappreciated by the people of other sections of the State. This state of facts is owing to the difficulty of traveling in this section after leaving the railroad. The Allegheny Valley road has a branch extending up the valley a short distance from Brady's Bend, but aside from this limited accommodation, the traveler must rely upon rickety stages, or poor saddle horses, or furnish his own transportation. Notwithstanding these difficulties, large numbers of pilgrims now find their way to the oily fields of Millerstown, or the spouting gysers of Modoc, in wonder and amazement at the enormous production of oil which this now famous territory is pouring out daily.

The development has been pushed steadily on from Scrubgrass to Emlenton and Foxburg; then across the river to Parkers and on up the valley of Bear creek; then over the ridge until it reached the valley of the South Branch of Bear creek at Argyle; then on to Petrolia and Karns City, when it again crosses the ridge to Millerstown, only to find an effectual bar to all further progress southward so far as present indications seem to warrant the investment of the large sums of money necessary to sink a well in this county. Each progressive step of this grand advance has a history peculiar to itself, but of thrilling interest if written out in full, for every test well was looked upon as a wild cat, when it was projected and until the steel had pierced the saturated sand, from twelve to fifteen hundred feet beneath the surface.

This history, although recent in date, has not been written, and it is doubtful if it ever will be, although it would possess an interest second to no romance from the brain of an average writer of fiction. Difficulties have been surmounted which would have baffled any but the boldest and most enterprising of men, at every step forward; but great as they were, they have not deterred brave men of iron nerve from working to the front with an impetuosity born of an enthusiasm which in other fields makes men heroes. The men who have developed this region are deserving of a more golden reward than they have reaped, but they themselves are greatly at fault for failing to make their ventures as remunerative as they otherwise might have been. They have failed to combine, where combination was profitable, and they have not prevented others, whose interests were antagonistic, to combine against them. However serious these mistakes may have been, they are irredeemable, and the business of producing oil is rapidly falling into the hands of comparatively a few people who stood ready to avail themselves of the opportunities offered. The producing business having largely passed into the hands of professional men, who represent vast sums of capital, so organized to act effectively, the business is being systematized and reduced to such a fixed basis as to render it much less hazardous than ever before, and at the same time to so discriminate against the small operator as to drive him from the field sooner or later. Yet the great transformation scene which has been enacted in Butler county is largely the work of individual producers, who hazarded their all upon the venture of a new country, and thereby placed the knowledge which had cost them so much within the reach of the more wealthy, yet more conservative operators, that are now profiting so largely by the experience of others.

The famous Troutman well, in what is now known as the Modoc district, was sunk, however, by one of the strongest individual firms engaged in the producing business, and it was located after a careful investigation of the whole country by experts perfectly familiar with the oil development in the upper region. It may properly be considered as a scientific triumph, for it was located in accordance with a finely conceived theory, although it was supposed by many to be far off from the belt. No one has yet demonstrated that it is upon the main belt, which is now generally admitted to be barred up below Millerstown. Its owners are, therefore entitled to the credit of having induced the development of the richest basin of the lower oil country, for Modoc is a second Pithole, managed by experienced operators, and discovered by scientific forecast. This basin seems to be wholly unprecedented in the history of the oil region in many respects, and bids fair to rival Pithole in the aggregate amount of oil which will ultimately be taken from this section. On a space little more than a quarter of a mile square are some twenty flowing wells, all spouting furiously day and night, giving an aggregate production that is very great, but which is undoubtedly largely overestimated. In the Modoc district, and its immediate vicinity, there are nearly or quite one hundred and fifty new wells going down, or new rigs going up, yet the cost of everything is enormous and the price of oil correspondingly depressed.

Let us look at the business side of this matter for a moment, and we may be able to form something of an idea of the infatuation which has produced this activity on the part of oil operators, the most of whom represent heavy companies.

Each of these 150 wells will cost nearly or quite $10,000 upon the average, consequently they represent a cost price of $1,500,000, nearly every cent of which is so much cash capital invested when the wells are down. Several of the companies own the land on which they are operating; but some have paid $200 dollars an acre bonus, and then pay one-fourth royalty. It is utterly impossible for these wells to average 200 barrels a day for four months; but if they did, and oil continued to bring but fifty cents a barrel at the wells, this would give $12,000 to a well, or $1,800,000. The running expenses and repairs could not possibly be less than $300,000 for the 150 wells during the four months. Now, let us be a little more practical. The average production, even in this district, is now but 42 barrels a day for each well, and the average life of a well cannot be considered as over six months at the outside. This gives us an income of $547,000, less the expenses in running and cost of the wells, which gives us a dead loss of nearly a million dollars upon the 150 wells. But worse yet, the average productions of wells in other districts have never reached over 7 barrels to the well, and it is doubtful if these 150 wells will average over 10 barrels to the well for six months. This would give a net loss of at least a million and a half dollars, the income being barely sufficient to cover the expense of running and interest on investment at the best possible showing. How these men expect to produce fifty-cent oil successfully from these deep wells, is incomprehensible to people who have not caught the infatuation. Some of the largest wells may prove remunerative, but the average well must be a losing speculation to its owners, even if the land is free from royalty or other heavy expense.

Can anybody wonder, after looking the question squarely in the face, that oil men outside the charmed valley feel blue when they hear of other new wells that flow tremendously for a short time at least, even if they stop flowing almost as soon as the sensation message is sent to the world.

Those who have recently been through the region for the purpose of making an estimate of the production report that the popular account of the enormous yield must be greatly exaggerated. While the enthusiastic operators who seem to have lost their heads will tell you that the production of this lower country is all the way from twenty five to thirty-five thousand barrels a day, cool headed observers express the belief that it is really less than eighteen thousand, and that, in fact, the production of the entire oil region does not exceed twenty-seven thousand barrels a day. We will not vouch for the absolute accuracy of these figures, but from reliable testimony before us, we are convinced that they approximate the truth very closely. These figures are about three thousand five hundred barrels less than the generally accepted daily yield of the oil regions, and over ten thousand barrels a day less than some people represent the production to be. There seems to be a settled conviction among all producers outside of the Modoc illusionists, that these exaggerated reports about over-production operate against the interests of the producing class, by depressing prices to an undue extent.

If these statements are approximately correct, the daily demand is very nearly equal to the supply, and the stocks are increasing very slowly, instead of very rapidly, as many people suppose. In passing over the Oil creek road recently we noticed that there are a good many empty tanks above Oil City, and very few that were even half full. Empty tanks can also be found farther south, yet there must be a heavy stock of oil in tanks, as many of them in the lower country are full and many new tanks are in course of construction. It is probably impracticable to ascertain the exact amount in store, as the pipe line companies will not impart any information upon that point, and the amount of oil in a tank can only be judged by sweat marks or leakage on the outside. Still, the opinion seems to be gaining ground that the popular reports in regard to stocks on hand and the daily yield are greatly exaggerated. It is due to this conviction gaining ground that the market shows more firmness of late. Aside from the Modoc district there are few wells going down. Even at Millerstown, where several flowing wells have been struck recently, very few new rigs are going up, and there are only three or four wells being drilled. In all probability, as bad weather sets in and teaming becomes too difficult to be carried on, the work on many wells will be stopped until spring.

The work on the Parker and Karns City Narrow Gauge Railroad is progressing finely. Nearly all of the light grading has been completed and a large gang of laborers are now at work upon the heavier grades around the hill above Parker's. The work is being pushed forward so rapidly that cars will be running between Parker's and Karns City by Christmas, unless some unforseen delay occurs in the meantime. The railroad company has a paid up capital of $150,000, which it is estimated will be sufficient to build the road to Karns City, when bonds will probably be issued to extend the track on to Millerstown and Butler, and to run a branch down to Modoc, Greece City, Middletown and other possible towns of the future. The natural resources of the entire country are varied and valuable. As an investment this railroad will undoubtedly pay, as it will furnish the only convenient and comfortable means of getting into the heart of Butler county. DONGO.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The Militia and Judiciary Articles Adopted.

The Constitutional Convention on Wednesday afternoon took up the Article on Militia on third reading.

Mr. John N. Purviance moved to go into Committee to strike out section 1, and insert the following:

"The freemen of this Commonwealth shall be armed, organized and disciplined for its defence when and in such manner as may be directed by law. Those who conscientiously scruple to bear arms shall not be compelled to do so, but shall pay an equivalent for personal service."

After considerable debate the question was put and lost, ayes 44, nays 45. Other motions were made and defeated, and finally the article was passed as follows:

The Freemen of this Commonwealth shall be armed, organized, and disciplined for its defence when and in such manner as may be directed by law, and the Legislature shall provide for maintaining the militia by appropriation from the treasury of the Commonwealth; but the Legislature may exempt from military service those persons having conscientious scruples against bearing arms.

THE JUDICIARY.

The Convention then resumed the consideration of the Judiciary article, Mr. Cuyler withdrawing his section, proposed yesterday.

Mr. Howard moved to go into committee on the following section:

"There shall be established by law a court, to be styled 'The Superior Court of the State of Pennsylvania,' having three judges, learned in the law, chosen by the electors of the State at large. Those first chosen shall respectively hold office for terms of five, of ten, and of fifteen years, as may be determined by lot to be drawn immediately after taking the oath of office, and those afterwards chosen shall hold office for terms of fifteen years each. The judge of said court having the shortest unexpired term shall be Chief Justice thereof."

The said Court shall have and exercise the jurisdiction of a final appellate court in all cases of appeal, certioraris and writs of error from or to the several Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Courts of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in this Commonwealth, and any two judges may hold appellate court. Said court may exercise such further jurisdiction as shall be provided by law. And also in and for the county of Philadelphia said court may be held by any other judge, to be delegated for the purpose, and shall have and exercise all the jurisdiction in law and equity heretofore exercised by the Court of Nisi Prius, and the same shall be a Court of record, and all appeals from said Court shall be to the Supreme Courts, and writs of error and certiorari from the Supreme Court shall be issued to said Court of Nisi Prius for removal of its proceedings as in the case of other Courts of record.

A strong opposition exhibited itself to the proposition, and notwithstanding the eloquence and earnestness of its advocates the section was defeated—ayes, 16; nays, 57.

An amendment by Mr. Hay, regulating the aldermanic system of Allegheny county, was opposed by Mr. J. W. F. White, McConnell and Ewing. Pending its consideration, a call for the previous question, in order to pass the article, was moved and sustained.

The subsequent proceeding under the call resulted in delay, irritation and entanglement, and as a means of getting rid of the difficulty an adjournment took place at twenty minutes before the usual hour.

THURSDAY'S SESSION.

Mr. J. N. Purviance offered a resolution "That the Secretary of the Commonwealth be requested to furnish the Convention a tabular statement of the votes cast in the several counties in 1838, for Governor, and for and against the amended Constitution of 1837-8. Agreed to.

Mr. Hay moved to go into committee to add at the end of the eleventh section the following: "In cities containing over 50,000 inhabitants not more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district."

Mr. Guthrie believed that this would meet the views and give entire satisfaction to the people of Pittsburgh and Allegheny City.

Mr. T. H. B. Patterson, and the remaining delegates from Allegheny, with the exception of J. W. F. White, supported the motion, and it was agreed to.

Mr. Hay further moved to amend, "and they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries." Not agreed to—ayes 30; nays 52.

Several amendments were offered to two or three other sections, which were lost, and a few minutes past eleven o'clock the vote was taken upon the article, and it was approved.

SUFFRAGE AND ELECTIONS.

The Convention then took up, on motion of Mr. Buckalew, the article on Suffrage and Elections on third reading, and Mr. Rogers read the amendments made by the Committee of Revision and Adjustment.

KEYSTONE BREVITIES.

ERIE CITY is to have a new piano manufactory.

INDIAN summer is the next thing on the programme.

MRS. SPITLER, of Johnston, has a corn stock fifteen feet high. How is that for high?

THE farmers have nearly all finished seeding. The early sowed grain looks exceedingly well.

THE Titusville Courier notes the fact of an apple and peach tree being in full bloom in that region.

A NEW post office has been established at Phelson's, Somerset county, with Jno. Guffey postmaster.

THE farmers are now engaged harvesting their late buckwheat crops. The crop is said to be an average one.

A HEDGE HOG was caught on the farm of Mr. John Bixley, in Lebanon county, last week, which weighed twenty one pounds.

A YOUNG lady by the name of Faith, in Washington, broke one of the bones of her leg, in jumping from a hack on Thursday morning.

THE receipts of the late fair in Washington county amounted to over $2,800, the largest amount ever received at any one fair since the organization of the Society.

IN THE CASE of the Titusville and Pithole Plankroad Company vs. the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, tried in Warren last week, a verdict was rendered for the plaintiffs for over $7,000.

THE oldest house in Rockton, Clearfield county, was destroyed by fire on the 28th ult. The property was owned by Rev. George Brubaker and occupied by a Mr. Thomas. The household goods were saved.

THE Park Association, of Monongahela City, will at once begin to improve the old Fair Grounds, together with the additional grounds purchased by them, and it is designed to make it the finest driving park in Western Pennsylvania.

THE Scranton silk company is said to be a success. The company was organized with a capital of $100,000. The amount is found insufficient, and it is expected that the charter will be so changed so as to allow the employment of $1,000,000 capital.

A PARTY of five men from Marietta, sent by the Commissioners, were engaged in destroying fish baskets in the Susquehanna river below Columbia and at Turkey Hill, last week. They met with no resistance in the performance of their duty, but created much talk among the fishermen.

JOHN GAMP, a farmer of Lancaster county, met with an accident in Lancaster, on the 8th inst. He was driving out of the field into the street, when the wagon gave a sudden jolt, throwing him from his position and hurling him to the pavement beneath, causing painful wounds and severely injuring him internally.

A TERRIBLE accident occurred at Pittstown, Luzerne county, on Saturday. Mrs. Smith and her little daughter were crossing, and hearing a train coming tried to get off the track, but too late. The child was caught by the wheels, severing one leg from the body and cutting an arm off close to the shoulder. The mother was not injured.

THE Scranton Republican says the small pox has again made its appearance in that city in a most virulent form. That paper recites the suffering it has lately caused in one family, out of which three have died of it, and says: "In this land of plenty there was not a morsel of food within their reach, and they are now entirely destitute of means."

THE Moravian Seminary for young ladies, at Easton, commemorated the eighty-ninth anniversary of its founding, which occurred in the year 1785, on Friday. During the eighty-nine years there have been 6,181 pupils connected with the school, with some from every State and Territory in the Union, from Canada, and from the British and Dutch West India Islands.

THE colored people of Luzerne county are earnestly protesting against the exclusion of their children from the public schools. At Wilkesbarre several meetings have been held and resolutions adopted to support no candidate for any office who will not pledge himself to their views. There is strong feeling on both sides, and the result will be watched with no little interest.

A RELIC of revolutionary times has been recently presented to Steuben Jenkins, Esq., of Wyoming, by Mr. H. A. Chambers, of Philadelphia. It is a gold snuff box of German workmanship, in its day very elegant, and yet well preserved. On one side is engraved, "Baron Steuben," on the other side is stamped a representation of the judgment of Solomon, two women claiming a child.

JOHN PENWARDEN and a companion, while hunting grouse near Bear Swamp, in Wayne county, north of Milford, Pa., says the Reading Eagle of October 1st, were attacked by a large panther which came out of the swamp. They wounded it, and were obliged to flee for their lives. The animal followed them a long distance. In this connection we may add that a Mr. John Bradley, who resides near Milford, has been missing for some two weeks. He had considerable money with him, and it has been conjected that he had been murdered, as some hair, a piece of shirt, and a portion of a human head have since been found near Bear Swamp. It is now, however, surmised that he was attacked and devoured by the wounded panther.

Greenbacks Becoming Plenty Again.

TRIAL OF STOKES.

Arrival of an Accomplice in the Nathan Murder.

NEW YORK, October 9, 1873.

Greenbacks Becoming Plenty.

Some banks have virtually resumed payment of greenbacks. Mr. Camp, manager of the Clearing House, said that since the issue of loan certificates there has not been seen so many greenbacks as were seen yesterday when clearances were made. A Wall street bank President was spoken to on the subject, and said he thought greenbacks had become sufficiently numerous to allow of resumption. In case, however, that the pressure became too great, the banks would no doubt fall back to the plan followed during the past two weeks as a measure of safety. There seemed no reason, he said, why the payment of legal tenders should not go on; trade was prosperous, produce men were paying for and receiving larger quantities of grain than had been received at any time before. The shipments of grain from the West have been fully one hundred thousand bushels more during the past week than during any week in the history of the country. All this has been paid for in legal tender notes.

Mr. Camp was asked to-day to give his opinion as to when there will be a resumption of currency payments by the banks, and he said he could not, because he was not prepared to admit that the banks had suspended currency payments. They had only refused to pay out legal tenders for checks. Legal tenders, he added, are rapidly increasing in the banks of the city, and the banks are now paying all regular and legitimate demands upon them.

The Nathan Murder.

Detectives arrived this morning with John T. Irving, who made statements in San Francisco that he was present at the killing of Mr. Nathan in this city about three years ago.

It is said Irving will prove that Kelly, now in Sing Sing, killed Nathan with the iron "dog," which was obtained of a caulker in the Brooklyn Navy Yard; that ten thousand dollars in bonds, which were in Nathan's safe, were seen in Kelly's hands after the murder; that these bonds were negotiated, and that Nathan's watch and chain were pawned in Centre street the day after the murder.

Failures.

The failure of Gibson, Cazanova & Co. and S. B. Hard is announced on the Stock Exchange.

Gibson, Cazanova & Co., stock brokers, say their suspension is one of the results of the recent panic. Their depositors drew out their funds and their securities became unavailable. The people indebted to the house were unable to pay, and in some cases failed. Added to this, a large amount of capital was locked up in a new railroad. They express a belief in their ability to pay in full.

Stokes' Trial.

The trial of Stokes for the murder of James Fisk, Jr., was resumed this morning. Judge Davis sustained the challenge as to the array of jurors, and counsel for the prisoner asked leave to withdraw it, asserting that the investigation by them showed that the pannel was drawn in the usual way, and without intention to prejudice the case. The work of empanneling a jury then began.

The Charges Against Comptroller Green.

The Evening Post learns that Comptroller Green will not reply to the charges made against him by the Reform Association to Mayor Havemeyer.

THE RIVERS.

CINCINNATI, October 9.—River 3 feet 10 inches and falling. Thursday's Gazette says:—The committee of five to decide on a plan upon which steamers may be run to New Orleans with profit the coming season had not concluded its labors yesterday, and will meet again at 9 o'clock this morning. At 10 o'clock a report will be made to an adjourned meeting of the New Orleans steamboat captains and owners. The ten steamers of the line will be as follows: Thomas Sherlock, Capt. Henry U. GOVERNOR NOYES.

Large and Enthusiastic Republican Mass Convention at Warren, Ohio.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

WARREN, O., October 9, 1873.

Governor Noyes, Republican candidate for re-election to the Governorship of Ohio, addressed a very large and enthusiastic Mass Convention in this city, to-day, in a speech of over two hours. It was one of the Governor's best efforts, and undoubtedly produced a highly favorable impression on the vast audience present. The Convention closed with three rousing cheers for Noyes as the next Governor of Ohio. Trumbull county will give him at least three thousand majority. R.

The Government Drawing on the Treasury Reserves—Canal Boats not Subject to the Inspection Laws—Arrival of the Survivors of the Polaris Expedition.

WASHINGTON, October 9, 1873.

Canal Boats not Subject to the Inspection Laws.

The Secretary of the Treasury has decided that canal boats are not subject to the United States inspection laws, provided the boat is navigated exclusively on canals, and in no other waters.

Drawing on the Treasury Reserves.

The Treasury reserves are now being daily drawn on to pay only the actual expenses of the Government. There is no apprehension at the Department that the draft upon the forty four millions will be very heavy in the ordinary course of business. The outstanding legal tenders are now shown to be over three hundred and fifty six millions, but will be reduced again to those figures at the earliest practical moment, it may be before the issue of the next public debt statement. The Secretary emphatically asserts that the outstanding legal tenders are not to exceed the minimum figures a day more than the absolute demands of the Government require.

Arrival of the Polaris Survivors.

The steamship Tallapoosa arrived last evening, and was anchored in the stream. No communication was permitted from shore with the Polaris survivors. Secretary Robeson is making inquiries into the loss of the Polaris by an examination of the survivors.

Legal Tenders Outstanding.

The outstanding legal tenders amount to $358,966,488.

Carlist Victory.

LONDON, October 10—3 A. M.—The Carlists profess to have received information that Gen. Ollo, on the 6th, defeated and routed the army of Gen. Morionse, near Ciraqui, and compelled it to retreat to Puente La Reina, thirteen miles southwest of Pampeluna, leaving behind a large number of dead and wounded. The Carlists claim this as the greatest victory of the campaign.

THE READING.

The reading entertainment given by Miss Potter last night, at Library Hall, was fairly attended, and pecuniarily will realize for the fund about $200. It was a very fine entertainment, and was pronounced highly enjoyable by every attendant. Miss Potter reads with ease and grace, and a peculiar power of expression that makes her reading exceedingly pleasant to hear.

RIOT IN A QUARRY.

A Miniature War of Races—Germany vs. Ireland—Three Men Badly Injured—One Supposed Fatally.

Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock a riot of serious proportions occurred in the quarry on the Schenly property, near Oakland, and which is being worked by Mr. Alfred Harrison, who has leased the same. The trouble seems to have originated out of nationality, and as a consequence, developed itself into a miniature war of races. Mr. Harrison employs quite a number of laborers and among them are Germans and Irish. About the time mentioned three lusty sons of the Emerald Isle, put on their war paint and arrayed themselves in battle array, against an equal number of Teutons. The names of the Celts are James Keenan, Dennis Coyle and Patrick Flynn, while the appelations of their German antagonists are Gotlieb Shultz, Henry Myers and John Keefer. In the fight that ensued stones and wedges were used without regard to life or limb. Coyle and Flynn were severely cut about the head and face, but the most serious hurt is John Keefer, one of the Germans. He was beaten over the head and body by Keenan with an iron drill. His injuries are of a most serious nature, and it is very doubtful if he can recover. Dr. King was summoned to dress the man's injuries, and and he considers of them of a very serious nature. Later an information for felonious assault and battero was made against Keenan, and a warrant issued for his arrest.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 39½.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 109⅛.

THE REFORM movement in New York does not seem to have ultimated very satisfactorily. Serious charges have been preferred against Comptroller Green, who was presumed to represent the highest type of official virtue when he was appointed to his present position in place of Connolly. He is now charged with having paid large sums for legislation to secure his permanency in office, and to fail to properly discriminate between accounts which are just and those which are not, thus involving the city in legal expenses. Rather a bad showing for the Controller.

THE Republicans in France are actively at work, and Gambe ta—not the most reliable authority—announces his faith in the success of the Republicans, in their contest with the Monarchists. Chambord, however, does not seem at all dismayed, but is still confident of the triumph of the white flag. It is just possible, that in the war of factions, Rouher may be successful with his proposition to simply declare a monarchy, leaving it to the people to decide which of the rival houses shall be represented on the throne. This point, if gained, will be in the interest of the Bonapartes.

THE publication by the Dispatch of a very injurious rumor, to the effect that Springer Harbaugh & Co. had suspended, is not only in itself untrue, in every sense, but we avail ourselves of the circumstance to warn our friends against trusting or believing the injurious reports in circulation touching the integrity of our business houses. We heard several such reports yesterday, and found, on examination, that all were untrue. The business firms of this city carefully and prudently manage their business. Some of them may curtail the magnitude of their operations for a time, in view of the surrounding financial situation; but no houses in the country are more solid and safe than those of Pittsburgh.

THE Post keeps up its howl over the refusal of a clerk in the Auditor General's Office to permit a Democratic committee to inspect certain of the records. Of course the books should be open for inspection, but we are strongly inclined to think that the committee were less anxious to see the books than to be refused the permission they sought. It is also quite probable that their manner to the clerks was anything but pleasant. Still, the officials were to blame; but not more so than were the Democratic officials in rushing off to the Courts. Had they waited the return of the Auditor General, and been refused by him, they would have had a case to present to the people.

THE final explosion of the Daily Graphic balloon is generally accepted as the closing up of that particular branch of enterprise. The Graphic manufactured a large amount of gas for itself, during the progress of the building and inflating of the balloon, but it is generally believed that Donaldson was possessed of a full supply of the article naturally. At best, it has been a mismanaged affair from the outset, and we are glad to know that the parties who went up are safely down, and that the balloon is safely disposed of, by the gas and the elements. Whatever there may be in the eastern current theory, it is demonstrated that a balloon is not safe in the storms of Autumn. And the possibility of sudden storms, even in Summer, is evidence of their unreliability for any useful purpose.

SHOW THE BOOKS.

We have no thought that there is any real difficulty in securing a view of certain books in the Auditor General's office at Harrisburg, nor do we believe that our Democratic friends who applied for a mandamus to compel the Auditor General to show the books, particularly desire to see them now. Their point is gained in making it appear that they were refused, and thus throwing suspicion on the State Treasurer. They have an undoubted legal right to see the accounts of the Treasurer,—and we propose that the Auditor General grant them the permission they ask, and publish the fact to the people. This will entirely block their game, beside doing what is in itself proper and right. So let them be offered for investigation, and the fact publicly proclaimed.

ELECTING THE PRESIDENT.

The evils of our electoral system have been so frequently adverted to that there is no special necessity for specifying them. They have been so keenly felt since the last Presidential election when certain possibilities were fully disclosed, that a committee was constituted by the United States Senate to consider what changes can be made. This committee has been in session in New York, and is reported to have concluded that it is necessary to abolish the Electoral College, and have the President and Vice President elected directly by the votes of the people. But to our mind, the details of the plan show that it merely substitutes one form of Electoral College for another. The present system is to nominate Presidential electors, usually as many as there are Congressional and Senatorial districts. The proposed plan is to have Presidential voters,—each State to have as many as there are Congressional and Senatorial districts. The only difference will be, that in place of the Electoral College, something else will be substituted. But inasmuch as these Presidential voters are to determine the result, it is evident that the people will vote no more directly under the proposed system than they do now. Nor will the President be elected by the popular vote more than he now is.

The objections to the Electoral College, among others, are that it does not always represent the popular vote. Yet, substantially, it has done so. Lincoln, for example, did not have, at his first election, a majority of the popular vote, yet he had a plurality vote, and a majority in the Electoral College. So the College really carried out the will of the people. This illustrates a possibility, however, that is regarded as dangerous. Suppose, for example, a certain candidate were to carry several States by majorities so large that, with the vote received by him in States he did not carry, he should have an actual majority on the popular vote. But the States carried by him are not large, and have but few electors, while those gained by his competitor were large States, and possessed of a large electoral vote. We can readily see that the man in the minority on the popular vote might readily be elected. But all this is not changed, so far as we can see, by the new plan. Whether it will eliminate the danger supposed to be involved in case of the death of a candidate remains to be seen. Enough has not been disclosed to base a judgment upon as regards this point.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

A few days since we gave some facts bearing on the surroundings and prospects of the Northern Pacific Railroad, as furnished us by a gentleman who has been over the entire route. In order to perfect fairness, we feel bound to mention some statements which give another and different showing. In 1871, application having been made to capitalists in Vienna and Berlin for the negotiation of the bonds of the road, two experts were sent, one by the Union Bank of Vienna, and the other by Berlin capitalists, to investigate the condition and prospects of the road. They reported unfavorably, to the effect that there was not proper security for the proposed loan, and the affair fell through. The reports by some means were suppressed, and Jay Cooke & Co. assumed the business of negotiating the loan, and it was principally placed among persons in moderate circumstances in this country.

The expert from Berlin, Herr Hass, reports that the estimate for constructing the road—$85,000,000 nett, or $100,000,000 in bonds—is ample, and that the land will in time bring a good price, being of excellent quality; also that it would provide for the repayment of the principal at maturity. The interest on the bonds will amount to $7,300,000 a year in gold. This will require a gross annual income of about $20,000,000, the profits on American railways amounting on the average to 35 per cent. of the earnings. Herr Haas can see no prospect of the Northern Pacific Railroad earning $20,000,000 a year for a long time to come. The present population of the States through which it passes is only 600,000, and if the whole region should develop as rapidly as Minnesota has developed since the introduction of railways, it would still have in 1880, scattered over 630,000 square miles of surface, a population only 50 per cent. larger than that of New York City at the present time. This could not yield much, and the transcontinental trade would add but little to it. In case of a deficiency in the earnings, the company is allowed to pay the interest by borrowing from its land fund, which is pledged for the redemption of the bonds. But for many years the land fund will yield but little. There are extensive Government lands along the line of the railway which can be taken up under the homestead law, and immense tracts of the railway lands must be utterly unsaleable until there has been an enormous advance of settlements. "It is certain," concludes Herr Haas, "that a longer or shorter period will ensue, immediately upon the opening of the line, during which the bondholders will have to forego interest."

This, it will be borne in mind, is but one side of the question, although it is strongly supported. Whether there will be a rush of travel into the Yellowstone region, or a marked development of through freights from Portland, or whether the profits from the Columbia riv[illegible] of steamers will contribute to [illegible] interest fund, we do not [illegible] $15,000,000 difference [illegible] face of the bonds, and the estimat[illegible] of the road, which estimate the German admits to be liberal. This would provide two years' interest. Still, after all is said, this showing is to the effect that for some years the bondholders must be without interest, although the ultimate value of their bonds seems assured.

POLITICAL.

THE Indianapolis Journal is authorized by Senator Morton to say that he is not in favor of an extra session of Congress, being called to legislate on financial matters.

THREE ladies, Miss Louisa Plasher, Miss Mary R. Housekeeper, and Mrs. W. A. Hinckley, are independent candidates for the office of Superintendent of Schools of Cass county, Illinois.

HON. ALLEN G. THURMAN, the leader of the Democratic party of Ohio, takes very strong ground against the resumption of specie payment, and thereby indicates a radical difference between himself and those impracticable men who think this is the time to resume, when everybody is clamoring for the convertible and unexportable currency of the United States.

THE Republican State Committee of Mississippi has issued an address, in which it is stated that a general election will be held in that State this Fall, Gov. Powers to the contrary notwithstanding, unless the Supreme Court should declare, before the time set, that the Election law is void. The Committee denies the power of the Governor or the Attorney General to declare a law of the State unconstitutional and void, and it says that it has reason to believe that the Courts will take no action before the time for holding the election. It is asserted in the address that the opposition are still actively at work organizing and vigorously prosecuting the campaign, and that the cry of no election has been raised merely to retard the Republican canvass, and to keep as many of the party as possible from the polls.

A FALSE REPORT has been published of the death of Ada Clare, who was known some twelve years ago, as a writer for two or three of the weekly papers of that period. She is residing in New York at the present time.

CHIEF JUSTICE GRAY, of Massachusetts, is said to be one of the greatest men living. He stands six feet four inches high, weighs 250 pounds, has a fine figure, travels his circuit on horseback, and—attention, ladies!—is a bachelor.

MISS ELIZABETH STUART PHELPS refers in print to Miss Smiley, the Quaker preacher, "as a woman who has a voice as sweet as a robin's, a face as serene as a Madonna's, a courage as resolute as an apostle's, and a purpose as fixed as a Quaker's, and who wears her bonnet into the pulpit besides."

THE only man that gentle Susan B. Anthony ever loved still lives at Dubuque, Iowa. Like old Casper, his mind "is in the long ago," and he rejoices to sit by his cottage door and entertain the Dubuquers with stories of the days when Susan and he used to drop in on the Washingtons just in time to save little George from some terrible spankings.—Brooklyn Argus.

OF SALVINI as Hamlet the New York Herald says: "He misinterprets the character almost from beginning to end. He makes 'Hamlet' a bad man, the seducer and deserter of 'Ophelia,' and a heartless giber in the few scenes in which melancholy mirth should be expressed. He takes an ingenious, a startling and original, but a low and vulgar view of the man—vulgar we mean, as opposed to spiritual and exalted.

THAT was a neat thing of the eloquent radical Bradlaugh at the recent dinner to Wilkie Collins in New York, where Bradlaugh was an invited guest. When speaking of Collins as a distinguished countryman whom he much admired, he quietly observed that owing to the difference in their "social status" he had to come to free America to make his acquaintance. They shook hands in the midst of the cheers of the company.

DON PIATT, to be happy, must have his joke. Here is what he has to say of Senator Chandler: "While making his grand tour of Europe he encountered our friend, General Lefevre, then United States Consul at Nuremberg. The conversation turning on bills presented by landlords, the Senator said he could not complain. His bills, compared to those he had to pay in Washington, were reasonable enough. 'But there is one thing that puzzles me,' he continued; 'wherever I go, if but for one night, I am charged with a buggy. Now, the charge is low enough if I ever had the buggy, but I haven't seen a buggy since I left the States.' Our Consul was bothered. He asked at last to look at the bill, and found that the learned Senator had mistaken the French word 'bougie' (a candle) for the honest American one, 'buggy.'"

FOREIGN NOTES.

MICHAEL BACKOUNINE, the leader of one of the branches of the Internationale, has published a letter denying certain charges made against him by Dr. Karl Marx, and announcing his intention of retiring from political life.

A LEADING article of the Assemblee Nationale, declaring Bismarck to be mad, has caused great indignation in Berlin. It excites surprise that a paper nearly related to the French Government dares to publish such an article.

A BANKER in Paris lost a valuable diamond breastpin, and offered a reward for it. The thief had a fac simile made, substituting paste for stones, and presented the pin to the loser, who paid the handsome sum. The original pin he sold to a jeweler.

A PAPYRUS manuscript found in an Egyptian tomb has lately been translated by a scholar of Heidelberg, who pronounces it to be an address of Rameses III. to all the nations of the earth, detailing minutely all the causes which led to the exodus of the Jews from the land of the Pharaohs.

THE recent visit of Count Von Eulenburg, the Prussian Minister of the Interior, to Antwerp, has given rise to some absurd reports about a projected sale of Antwerp to Prussia. The reports are said to be entirely without foundation, the visit of the Count having been on private business, and having no political importance whatever.

SIR GEORGE JESSEL, replying to an address of congratulation from his Jewish co-religionists on his appointment to the office of Master of the Rolls, said: "I can only hope that my attainment, first of political and now of judicial office, may help to smooth the path of such of my co-religionists as may elect to pursue a forensic career to similar honors."

BY a strange coincidence the first Austrian regiment of artillery, the other day, in parading before King Victor Emanuel, afforded His Majesty a near view of the very guns that were pointed directly at himself and his suite in the battle of Custozza, upon his showing himself on a hillock in the battle-field. The regiment retains the same guns in use.

PAITE, the inhuman wife butcher in New Hampshire, having pleaded guilty to a charge of murder in the second degree, has been sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment in the State Prison. These pleas for secondary offences in first-class capital crimes lessen the labors of prosecuting attorneys, and at the same time send the scales of exact justice whirling.

DR. BANKS testified, at Huntington, that the ladies who were present while Kelsey walked away in his coat of tar and feathers, were in a state of "boisterous mirth" at the appearance of the unfortunate man. The feminine "giggle" has never been specially admired either of gods or men. Byron's dislike of misses in their teens is acknowledged by him to have resulted from a fancy that they "always smelt of bread and butter." But we incline to think that it must be attributed to their "giggle." This point is important, as Dr. Banks's statement that the Huntington ladies indulged in "boisterous" mirth, excludes the idea of their giggling. Gallantry prompts us to seek for something to say in behalf of the Doctor's fair friends, and the above is the only thing we could think of.—Brooklyn Argus.

THE BALLOON HUMBUG.

Gullible People and Decent Journalism.

How many more balloons the Graphic has to send up, we do not know. How many more aeronauts are determined to die that that paper may live, we do not know either. We presume, however, that there are plenty of gullible people who are ready to rush to the Capitoline grounds every time the farce is repeated. In the interests of decent journalism, however, we would suggest that it is about time the young men of the Graphic quit the balloon business, and that the Associated Press can employ itself better than in using its resources to encourage such tom-foolery. There is enough at the present time that is earnest and serious to engage the attention of every thoughtful person, without having the silly humbugs of the Graphic trumpeted all over the country for the sake of gratuitous advertising. It is time that the European aeronauts quit the business also. Mr. Donaldson has now twice expressed his willingness to die. If he wants to die, the Brooklyn balloon grounds and Connecticut apple trees are not the proper places. If he is really bound for the happy land of Canaan, we wish him a safe voyage, but let him take some route where there are no apple trees on the way, and let him go quietly about it. The Canaan where he is willing to go is not in Connecticut; on the other hand, a long ways from there. It is to be hoped that we have now heard the last of this transparent nonsense.—Chicago Tribune.

Wheat Bags in California.

The San Francisco Chronicle says: "Last year we needed 12,000,000 of wheat bags. This year we will want at least 9,000,000, and if the breadth of land under wheat cultivation should continue to increase, as it promises to do, we will require not less than 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 yearly. The value of these, at a very low figure, would be from $2,500,000 to $3,750,000. We now pay $1,000,000 per annum to Scotland for wheat bags, which we could as well make ourselves, and so give employment to over 500 people. Our future needs would give work to an average of 1,500 persons to be employed in weaving the jute into burlaps and converting the latter into bags. That would be equivalent to an addition to 9,000 to our population. Dundee, in Scotland, with a population of only 100,000, is almost entirely supported by this industry, which has been the means of doubling her population in twenty years. We can obtain jute, laid down here, duty paid, at three cents a pound, quite as cheap as they can have in Scotland, and we can sell the manufactured goods even cheaper than the Scotch do. We are already pioneering the industry. Let us hope that our moneyed men will take the matter up and relieve us from the necessity of sending 18,000 miles for wheat bags."

ATTEMPTED ESCAPE OF WADE.

A Convicted Murderer on the Rampage.

About five o'clock on Monday evening, says the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin, Wade was removed to an adjoining cell, as it was feared that he contemplated making an attempt to get out. He had not been in his new quarters long before he seized the water pipe and wrenched it off, when the water flowed rapidly. Thinking to cool his ardor somewhat, it was determined to leave him alone for a short time. He then broke down the hammock, and securing a bar of iron commenced digging through the wall into his old cell, and in a short time had made an opening large enough to admit a man. The Sheriff, with several policemen, then approached, but, brandishing a piece of iron, he defied that official to enter his cell. After some parleying a rush was made upon him, when he was seized, thrown and secured. He was then handcuffed and tied with an enormous rope. somewhat on the principle of "doing up" the Davenport Brothers, when it was supposed that he could not possibly get loose again. But, Davenport-like, Wade was determined to show the officers a "trick or two." During the night, it is supposed, he secured a broken tumbler, when he deliberately went to work and succeeded in cutting the rope that bound him and released himself. Then by a desperate effort he wrenched off his handcuffs, and as if scorning to be encumbered with such trifling things, threw them out of a window into the jail yard. Then he broke from his cell, and was found roaming through the halls of the prison this morning apparently a free man! He was then recaptured and locked up again. Whether he will perform another "trick or two" remains to be seen. He professes to have experienced religion, and states that he prayed fervently last night to be granted strength to free himself from his bands, and his prayer was answered.

RUPTURE.
There are hundreds of people ruptured who don't know what ails them; there are others who don't know what to do for it, nor where to seek for relief or a cure; others again who have had rupture for years, under the false notion that there can be no danger in the future, as there has been none in the past. This is a fatal delusion, and there is no knowing what day the rupture may become strangulated, and call for a painful and dangerous surgical operation. To avoid so fearful a result, make application to some competent person to have a truss applied. Will a truss cure me, you may ask. Very often it will, but it will always retain the parts so as to make you secure and safe from danger, and at a cost so trifling as to be hardly worth mentioning when compared with the enormous risk you run in letting it alone. Dr. Keyser, at his office, 167 Liberty street, is provided with every appliance suitable to the retention and cure of this terrible evil. He has trusses at a price as low as can be obtained anywhere in the country, and in every variety and quality—of such vast variety, that the most difficult and long standing cases, of years duration, are made manageable and brought within the province of cure. Let no one deceive themselves into the belief that rupture is never curable; but worst than all, let none consent to "let alone" cure.

Speedily Cured.—All Forms of Venereal, Private and Nervous disease at the old established Girard Medical Institute, No. 173 Second avenue, between Smithfield and Grant streets, Pittsburgh, Pa.
NO CHARGE UNTIL CURED.
Syphilis, Stricture, Orchitis, Hernia and all Urinary diseases are cured in the shortest possible time that will insure permanent relief. Spermatorrhea, or Seminal weakness and Impotency, as the result of self-abuse or excess in maturer years, and which produce some of the following effects, as emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, cough, indigestion, constipation, despondency, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, loss of memory, and sexual power, and which unfits the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing insanity and consumption, are thoroughly and permanently cured. Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications confidential. This Institute was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. The proprietors have made the treatment of private and special diseases the study of their lives, and can refer to thousands all over the country who have been benefitted and cured by their treatment. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, it is curable, after a personal examination they will frankly tell you; remember, they have cured many cases given up by other physicians. Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address:

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, October 10, 1873.

Yesterday was most decidedly the brightest day in financial circles we have experienced since the commencement of the stringency in the money market. Many of the banks commenced to freely discount for their customers, and currency is becoming much more plenty; and we have no doubt but that all the banks in the city could discount at once were they certain that no further trouble would befall Eastern bankers. The paper now offering on the street is not taken at any price, as the parties who usually discount this paper are holding off, and have been loaning their money in other ways. Currency that commanded three per cent. premium on Friday and Saturday, of last week, could be obtained for from one-half to one per cent. yesterday. Our wholesale dealers, as well as many in the retail trade, complain that business is slow and collections difficult to make, but all are confident that another week will see the end of the stringency, so far as they are concerned.

NEW YORK, October 9, 1873.

The day opened in Wall street with a feeling of depression, under which there was a decline in gold, foreign exchange, Government bonds, and railway and miscellaneous shares. Soon after the inauguration of business there were rumors of mercantile failures. Money became close, and bankers pressed brokers to take up loans which had been standing since the panic. This started a selling movement on the Exchange, chiefly for cash, and the general share list dropped from 1 to 10½ per cent. The greatest decline was in Western Union, which was pressed on the market for cash by the difficulty in making new loans. This heavy decline dragged down the entire list. Late in the day mercantile failures were denied. A Rock Island dividend was declared, and Washington advices stated that the Government would encroach on the $44,000,000 reserve this month to the extent of $9,000,000. On these things the feeling changed somewhat. Matters improved on the Stock Exchange, speculation rising from 1 to 4¾ per cent., while foreign exchanges were steadier, and gold advanced ⅝ per cent. from the lowest point. In bank circles an increased supply of legal tenders was reported again, but, notwithstanding this, the premium remains at ¼@1 per cent., and there is still considerable business doing over the counters of brokers on Wall street. Some banks are pursuing a more liberal policy in regard to paying out currency, and are cashing larger checks than of late.

It is reported that the National Trust Company will resume on Monday next and the Union Trust Company between October 15 and November 1st. The directors of both companies were in session this afternoon.

Money was difficult to obtain on call, and the rate advanced to ¼ per cent. per diem, with final dealings at 1-16. Foreign exchange was lower, the demand being limited and the supply of bills large. The closing quotations were 106¼@106¾ for prime bankers' sixty days sterling and 107½@107¾ for sight. Commercial bills sold at 105@106 gold. The carrying rates were 4@7 gold to 1-32 premium, closing at 7 gold. Clearings $34,500,000. The customs receipts were $336,000. Treasury disbursements $141,000. The total foreign coin thus far left at the United States assay office amounts to $461,000, of which 440,000 were received to-day. Governments closed at the lowest point of the day. The decline was partly in sympathy with the lower range of gold and the depression in other departments of the Stock Exchange.

Stocks fluctuated widely. Western Union opened at 68¼, fell to 58, and closed at 61½; Panama, 95@89; Rock Island, 92@88¼@89¼; Lake Shore, 73⅞@70¼@70⅞; New York Central, 92½@90½@90⅞; Wabash, 45¼@46@43¾; St. Paul, 33@31@31¼; Northwestern, 43¾@41¾@42; Pacific Mail, 33¼@32@32¼; Union Pacific closed at an advance of ¼ over the opening, being the exception: Ohio, 28¼@26@26¼; Erie, 49¼@47¾; St. Joe, 24¼@22; C. C. & I. C., 22⅞@24¾. The decline was more or less marked in the remainder of the list. The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad directors declared a 4 per cent. dividend to-day. The transfer books will close on November 11th, and the dividend is payable on November 26th. This dividend has been delayed in consequence of the difficulty in collecting money.

COMMERCIAL.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 9, 1873.

The markets in a general way, present but little that is really new or important; there is a fair consumptive demand for all the leading commodities, but no recent changes in values worthy of special notice. That business has been considerably curtailed in consequence of the stringency in financial matters, and the great difficulty in making collections, is generally conceded: furthermore, as noted in our last report, our merchants are not inclined to push business, or make any reduction in prices in order to effect sales. The risks of business have been increased, consequently business men are exercising more caution, and, as a rule, they prefer keeping their goods to selling on time, in a word, they are more solicitous about settling up old accounts than opening up new ones.

APPLES—Continue to come in freely, and with a supply in excess of the demand and stocks accumulating, prices are weak and drooping we reduce our quotations to $2@3 per brl. as to quality.

BEANS—$2.50@3 per bushel.

BUTTER—The receipts continue on a liberal scale, if anything, increasing, and there is an easier feeling in consequence—holders are more anxious to realize: prices, however, remain without quotable change, common to medium solid pack 8,10@15; prime to choice, 20@25 cts prime to choice roll, 26@28. We hear of an occasional small sale of choice roll at 30, but there is no difficulty in buying at our quotations.

CHEESE—The market continues in a very healthy condition: as yet it has been effected but little by the money panic, prices have been fully sustained, while almost everything else has shrunk more or less in value. We continue to quote Ohio Factory, August make, at 13¾@13¾ to the trade, and 14¼@15 in a jobbing way.

CHESTNUTS—In light supply as yet, and prices are still sustained, quotable at $9@9.50 per bushel.

CRANBERRIES—Prime Jerseys, $11@12 ℔ brl. Sackett and Carey, $17@18.

EGGS—The market is generally reported slow and while it is not large, is accumulating, and some dealers are willing to make concessions in order to effect sales: we reduce our quotations to 22@23.

FLOUR—Is becoming firmer, not only here but elsewhere, and the arrivals within the past week have been comparatively light; western dealers and millers generally are making it a point to sell only for currency, and the result is, our dealers have not bought as largely recently as usual, as currency is scarce, and besides they do not care about sending it away from here. Prices, however, remain unchanged. We continue to quote at 7.25@7.50 for fair to good spring wheat flours, and $7.75@8 for red winter wheat. Recent advices from the west quote choice Minnesotas at $6, an advance of 25c ℔ brl equal to $7.40 laid down in Pittsburgh as freights are $1.40 ℔ brl. Rye Flour, 5.25@5.50.

GRAPES—Sales at 5@7c ℔ ℔.

GRAIN—Trade continues quiet, and our market presents no new features worthy of notice. Dealers generally are complaining of the difficulty in making collections, hence they are not as anxious to sell unless to good buyers. Wheat is quiet: there is but little offering and but little wanted: we continue to quote at $1.47@1.50 for red: $1.53@$1.55 for amber, and $1.58@1.60 for white. There is a steady demand for Oats and the market is firm and prices are well sustained: sales reported at 47@49, and some dealers quote at the even half dollar for prime white. Corn is in rather better supply and the market is quiet and unchanged: sales of shelled at 64@65. Rye is quiet and nominally unchanged, ranging from 85@90. No. 3 spring Barley is quoted at $1.3@1.35: No. 2 $1.36@1.38 in Chicago on Wednesday, and active.

GROCERIES—There is no improvement in trade nor is it to be expected until there is a easing up in money matters; our merchants generally, in view of the great difficulty in making collections, are loth to sell on time, unless to buyers who they feel assured will meet their obligations promptly when due. Our advices from the east report Coffees as being dull but very firm: importers, notwithstanding the financial troubles, appear to think that they have the market well under control, and are apparently confident of being able to keep up prices for the time being at least. Sugars are weak, with a drooping tendency, and the same is true of Syrups.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 27¾@28; good to prime 25¾@27c: fair, 24@25c. Roasted one lb. packages 31c; loose, 30¾.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 13¼c; Crushed, Powdered and Granulated, 12¾; Standard A, 11¼c; B; 11¾; Ex. C 11¼; Franklin Ex. C, 10¾. Other Yellow Sugars, 8@10.

SYRUPS—Extra White Drips, 80c; Sugar Drips, 70c: Amber, 65@70; lower grades, 45@50, as to quality.

RICE—Carolina Choice, 9¼; Patna, 8¾; Rangoon, 7¾@8.

MOLASSES—Choice New Orleans, 78@80c; Prime 73 to 75.

HONEY—Is selling at 33@35c per ℔.

HAY—The market for baled continues dull, and somewhat over stocked, although prices remain unchanged: we continue to quote at $20@25 per ton according to quality. The receipts have slacked up slightly within the past few days.

PEAS—$1.75@2 ℔ bushel.

POTATOES—Continue to come in pretty freely, but with a steady demand prices are still sustained: sales at 80@85c for mixed, and 87@90 for prime Peach Blows. Sweets unchanged at $3.50@4.50 per brl. the outside figure for prime Jerseys.

POULTRY—Live chickens, by the coop, 50@75c per pair, according to size.

PROVISIONS—Extra Sugar Cured Hams, ℔ lb, 15, Ex. Sugar Cured Shoulders, 11; Sugar Cured Breakfast Bacon, 13¾c. Extra Sugar Cured Dried Beef, 16¾. Beef tongues, $7.50 ℔ dozen. Bacon Shoulders, per lb, 10c. Bacon Rib Sides, 10¾c. Bacon Short Rib Sides 11c. Bacon Clear Rib Sides, 11¾c. Mess Pork, $17.00 per barrel. Refined Lard for summer use, in trcs, 9¾. Do. half bbls, 10¼c. Do. bkts 11c. Do. in 3 lb. caddies, 12¾c. Do in 5 lb. 12¼c do. in 3 lb. pails 13¾c ℔ pound. Do. in 5 lb. pails, 13. Do in 5 lb. pails, 13¾. Lard Oil, Ex. Winter Strained, per gallon, 72.

ONIONS—In fair supply, but with a steady demand, prices are maintained, ranging from $1@4.50 ℔ brl.

RAGS—Quoted at 3¼@3¾c.

SALT—Is quoted at $1.60 ℔ brl. by the car load, and $1.85 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS—Nothing doing in either Clover or Timothy Seed, and we omit quotations. Flax Seed unchanged at $1.90 ℔ bushel.

TALLOW—Quoted at 7¼@8c ℔ ℔.

WHISKY—Highwines steady but unchanged at 97@98.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY, THURSDAY, October 9, 1873.

CATTLE.

Since the date of our last report, Wednesday noon, trade has been fairly active, and cattle are selling about as fast as they arrive, although in consequence of the increased receipts and unfavorable reports, the feeling to-day was scarcely as strong as it was in the early part of the week. It is worthy of notice that eastern operators are operating with more than ordinary caution and it is likely that they will adhere to this line of policy until financial matters become more settled. There is a good deal of risk attached to the stock business at best, but more so than usual at this particular time. It is impossible to operate in cattle, without taking paper; nearly all the purchases made for the eastern markets are paid for with drafts or checks on eastern banks, and as a number of these have failed or suspended since the panic set in, sellers are very chary, and prefer making a sharp discount in the price of their stock in order to get currency. We know of a commission firm here that came nearly being caught up for $5,500 recently on draft; it was sent on to a Philadelphia bank for collection, and was presented to the parties there upon from whom it was drawn for payment. They, however, had a previous intimation that the bank presenting it for collection was in a shaky condition, and consequently refused payment, and it was well they did, as the bank in question went under, and closed its doors. Had the draft been paid the loss would have fell upon the commission firm, and but for the foresight of the parties upon whom it was drawn, the former would no doubt be that much poorer to-day. However, as we stated in our last report, the outlook, financially, is brighter, and it is thought that the worst of the storm has passed although it is probable that the money market will be close for some time to come. In regard to prices there has been no quotable change within the past 24 hours.

Hedges, Huff & Co. quote prime to extra steers at 5¾@6¾; fair to good, 5@5¾; medium, 4¾; fair to prime stockers, 4¼@4½: Texas, 3@4¾: inferior, all grades, 3@3¾: scalawags, 2¾.

Sadler, Havens & Co., quote extra 1,400 steers, 6@6¾; 1,300, 5¾@5¾; 1,200, 4¾@5¾; 1,000@1,100, 4¾@5; good 1,000 ℔ feeders, 4¼@4¾; stockers, 700@900, 3¼@3¾; common cows and bulls, 2@3.

Orr, Williams & Co.—Extra 1,400@1,500 steers, 5¾@6; good to prime 1,250@1,350, 5¼@5¾; common to medium, 1,000@1,100, 4@4¾. Bulls, stags and cows, 800@1,200, 2@4. Stock steers, 800@1,000, 3@4.

HOGS.

The arrivals yesterday afternoon and last night were liberal, larger than had been expected, and as the supply to day was somewhat in excess of the demand, the market was a little off ish, and as compared with yesterday, prices have declined about 10c per cwt. We reduce our quotations on Philadelphia hogs to 5@5.50, and Yorkers to 5.10@5.20; there were sales on Wednesday at 5.40 for the former, and 5.30 for the latter. Furthermore, unless the arrivals are choked off, a farther shrinkage in prices is probable.

SHEEP.

The market for this class of stock is quiet, and presents but little that is really new or important. There has been a very fair supply of common stock all week, but prime fat sheep are missing altogether, and the offerings of this character have been very meagre, hence, as compared with last week, prices are higher. Extra fine wool, 95@100 ℔, 5¼@5¾; good, 80@85, 4¾@4¾; extra 100@110 lb coarse wool, 5@5¼; good 85@90, 4½@4¾.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, October 9.—Business continues to improve with jobbers, and orders are arriving from all sections of the country. Commission houses are more actively employed in making deliveries than receiving fresh orders from jobbers. The market for cotton goods is steady and more active. Medium grades of bleached shirtings are selling well. Prints and ginghams [illegible] dress fabrics are in good demand.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 9, 1873.

The Crude market continues firm under the influence of an increased demand, which may be taken as an evidence of an easing up in money matters, and prices are still tending upward. Sales at Parker at $1,10@1,15 ℔ brl, considered equal to about 3⅞@3⅞c ℔ gallon delivered here. Refined is also reported firm, with considerable inquiry, and prices are well sustained: quotable at 16⅞@16⅞ for October, delivered in Philadelphia: 16 for first, and 15¾@15⅞ for last half of November. There is nothing doing in Pittsburgh deliveries, and in the absence of sales we omit quotations. There is no question but what Petroleum is rapidly recovering from the effects of the panic, and trade is now in almost, if not altogether, as good condition as it was prior to the panic. Crude has advanced from 85c to $1,15 ℔ brl, and there has been a corresponding appreciation in refined.

There is a steady demand for oil barrels, and the market is firmer, although there has been no general advance as yet. We continue to quote city make at $2.15, and countries at $2.10.

Wool Markets.

NEW YORK, October 8.—We clip the following from Messrs. Walter Brown & Son's monthly wool circular: The beginning of September was characterized by a continuance of the active demand which prevailed during the last half of the previous month. The inquiry was almost entirely from consumers, and, as the month advanced, was accompanied by a steady hardening in the prices of wool. Manufacturers had been much encouraged by the very satisfactory business done in their productions during the past few weeks, feeling that at the present low values of both wools and woolens they cannot suffer materially from foreign competition. Trade was evidently progressing in a very healthy direction, when all transactions were brought to a standstill by the sudden panic in monetary circles which was sprung upon the public a fortnight ago, and for a time threatened to engulf the entire financial and business community. Fortunately, the commercial interests of the country were in a thriving condition, and merchants having for the past year or more pursued a conservative policy, and having enjoyed a successful trade for the past few months were able to remain inactive until the severity of the storm had blown over. In the wool trade the only noticeable effect was a cessation of the activity which had prevailed. In a few instances holders have been willing to make concessions where prompt cash was offered; but on the usual thirty day or credit basis, moderate sales have been daily made at previous ruling prices. The steady demand from manufacturers throughout the early part of the month has gradually reduced the supply of fine fleeces, and at present the stock of these in the Eastern markets is extremely limited. However, in some sections of the country there are still large portions of the clip to come forward, and it is not likely that there will be such a scarcity of domestic wools as existed two years ago. Before the Wall street panic there was a slight speculative tendency evident among some operators and dealers in wool, by which prices might have been advanced more quickly than would have been prudent for the interest of either dealers or manufacturers. This spirit of speculation, however, has been checked by the crisis; and although there is little doubt that the prices of wool will be higher, the advance will probably be confined to the legitimate course of supply and demand, and the cost of carrying the wool. We look for a steady trade at about present rates for the next few weeks. In our next circular we may be able to give an opinion as to the future with more certainty than the present still unsettled state of business will permit. Meantime we would recommend our correspondents to forward their wools, and as our stock is very light, and the demand from consumers quite regular, we can safely promise prompt sales and good market prices. The following are the sales during the month as reported: 1,579 260 ℔ fleece and pulled 30@65, 156,940 ℔ combing and delaine 46@58¼, 45,250 ℔ tubwashed 48@57c, 47,065 ℔ scoured 50@51, 1,895,000 ℔ California 22@33¼, 145,500 ℔ Oregon 38@40, 320,040 ℔ Texas 21@35, 3,800 ℔ Nevada 22, 1,225,400 ℔ Cape 33¼@36, 103,000 ℔ Montevideo on private terms, 23,450 ℔ Noils 50@57¾, 155,500 ℔ Colorado, 21@25, 25,000 ℔ Donskoi private terms, 161,250 ℔ Mexican 17@20 56,700 ℔ South American on private terms; 19,406 ℔ New Zealand, private terms, 24,-000 ℔ Chinese on private terms.

HOME NEWS.

Died this Morning.

Joseph Frazier, the young man that was injured at Smith's foundry on Monday last, died this morning at half-past one o'clock, at his residence on Federal street, near Wylie avenue.

European Steamship Arrivals Yesterday.

A dispatch received at Max Schamberg's European steamship and telegraph office, at No. 163 Smithfield street, announces the arrival of the Anchor line steamer Australia, at New York; State line steamer Pennsylvania, at New York; National line steamer Canada, at New York; Inman line steamer City of New York, at Queenstown; Guion line steamer Wyoming, at Queenstown.

A Horse and Buggy Stolen.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. G. C. Lightcap, proprietor of the Girard House, Allegheny, proceeded to the races at McKee's Rocks. He went in a buggy behind a very valuable horse. He left the horse hitched upon the ground, and while he viewed the race the rig was stolen, and he had to walk home. The entire turnout was valued at about $500.

McElroy & Dickson.

The following was furnished this paper last evening by one of their representatives.

The well-known dry goods house of McElroy & Dickson, have asked their creditors to accept an adjustment of their claims.

At present their business continues as usual and their correspondents at home and in the East will be duly called on in a few days.

The very romantic article about them in the Leader last evening was full of statements that were incorrect.

A Peculiar Accident.

Yesterday afternoon while Street Commissioner Tyson, of Allegheny, had a squad of men at work cleaning Spring Garden avenue, a horse attached to a light wagon, in which a man was seated, came tearing down the hill. The men got out of the way and just as the wagon got to them one of the hind wheels came off and struck one of the men on the left side. His left fore-arm was broken and his side was so badly injured that he had to be taken to his home on Saw Mill alley, where medical aid was summoned.

A Dastardly Outrage.

Last evening Mr. Caperton, the well known caterer of Market street, went into the Union Baptist church on Grant street, and left a very valuable horse attached to a buggy hitched outside. While he was gone some wretch cut a terrible gash on the animal's right side immediately over the fore-leg, inflicting a wound about thirteen inches in length and in depth clear to the bone. Mr. Caperton can assign no reason why such a cruel act should have been committed upon a poor brute, and can only account for it by thinking that it was the freak of some bad boys.

Youthful Depravity.

Yesterday afternoon officer Wm. Fowler arrested a boy who was trying to sell a box of candy on board of a boat for forty cents. As the box contained several pounds of candy the officer thought it looked suspicious and had him locked up. The boy represented he lived in Allegheny and the Mayor thought he would keep him till he notified his parents. Last evening a man came to the lock-up and inquired for a watch that had been stolen from a boat. A search was made and the watch found on the boy; he had stolen it while he was trying to sell his candy. He is now held for the larceny of the watch.

A Correction.

The following note explains itself:

CAVALRY RECRUITING RENDEZVOUS, PITTSBURGH, PA., October 9, 1873.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

GENTLEMEN—I have seen in this morning's GAZETTE a brief notice of the arrest of Charles Stewart as a deserter from the United States army. The statement is not correct, as Stewart was only confined in jail for twenty-four hours, that being his punishment for being absent without leave. He is not a deserter, neither is he charged with any such crime by the military authorities, and as his parents are respectable people and live in this State, they will naturally feel very bad in seeing their son charged with such a crime in a widely circulated paper.

Please to make the necessary correction in your next issue and oblige

Yours respectfully,

EDWARD KELLEHER,
Recruiting Sergeant U. S. Army.

Westminster College.

The twenty-first year of this Educational Institution has opened with very fair prospects. Westminster numbers this term one hundred and seventy-six (176) students, of which number sixty-five names never before adorned the Matriculation book of the college. The faculty consisting of President E. T. Jeffers, D. D., and four Professors and a lady Principal, are all in perfect working order.

The Board of this Institution does not coincide with President Eliot, of Harvard University, not admitting the fair(er) sex to the privileges of a Collegiate education. The smiles of forty young ladies greet us every morning.

The Teutonic language is taught by a native of Germany.

Rev. W. H. Gill, of Allegheny city, Pa., recently delivered his popular lecture "William III," before the students of the college. Hon. Kenneth McIntosh, of the firm of McIntosh & Gailbraith, Attorney's at Law, of your city, delivers monthly lectures to the Senior class on Constitutional and International Law. X.

Among the announcements made for the coming year, by our weekly press, is that of the American Agriculturist. This excellent journal has been recognized as the standard of its class, and all over the land finds its way into the houses of the farmer, the artist, the literary man, the minister, lawyer, physician—in fact, among all classes. It wins its way by merit, for it is really a journal which, for purity of tone, literary excellence, and superiority as a class paper is every way worthy of recommendation.

The prospectus of the Agriculturist indicates that there is to be no falling off in efforts to maintain the high standard now occupied. Every department has been carefully arranged and improvements will be made such as have been recommended by experience.

The subscription price of the journal is but one dollar and a half, and in addition to the paper the subscriber gets a beautiful chromo of "Mischief Breeding" that would be fit to grace any home. It is hard to see how any progressive farmer can do without the Agriculturist, and as a general paper for the household it is almost as valuable to every one. All who wish to secure a good weekly journal should send the subscription price to the Orange Judd Company 245 Broadway, New York.

The Death of Mrs. Appel—A Correction.

Newspapers, even when the most careful supervision is exercised over their columns will sometimes be in error. A case of this kind occurred a few days since, by the publication in this paper of an item in reference to the death of Mrs. Appel,—an aged lady who resided with her husband near McKee's Rocks, and whose lifeless body was found a few mornings since in a well. The information as first given was based on statements that came to our reporter through the regular news channels, and were deemed, at the time, entirely reliable. Since then, however, we have become satisfied the item did great injustice to a worthy lady and her family—the truth of the matter being brought out at the Coroner's inquest. The testimony there adduced, and which we published in full, clearly exculpated the lady and her friends from the imputations of the first reports, and entirely relieved the husband and surviving friends from any blame in the unfortunate affair.

From further investigation, we learn also that Mr. Appel and his family have borne the reputation of being peaceable and respected members of society, and have always been held in esteem by their neighbors and acquaintances—facts which render the publication of the item the more to be deplored. We regret exceedingly that our first report should have reflected upon them in any way, and take pleasure in improving the first opportunity, after investigating the case, to set the matter right.

THE CITY PROPERTY.

Meeting of the Committee Last Evening.

Last evening the City Property Committee held a meeting in City Clerk Morrow's office and approved bills amounting to $728 17. The resolution in regard to building station houses on the property recently bought on the South Side by the city, and which had been referred to the Committee by Councils, was acted on, and the whole matter was left to Messrs. Boyd and Laughlin the Committee of the South Side, to procure plans and report at the next meeting of the City Property Committee. Adjourned.

ALLEGHENY STREETS.

Contracts Awarded Last Evening.

Last evening just previous to the meeting of the Allegheny Councils, the Street Committee held a meeting and awarded the following contracts: Grading and paving Evans alley from Nixon to Brady street, to Thomas Carson; grading and paving Brady street from Beaver avenue to Chartiers street, to Isaac Myers; for grading and paving Wayne street, from Brady street to P. Ft. W. & C. R. R. track, to Isaac Myers; grading of Benton street from Spruce street to Sand alley, to Charles O'Brien; grading and paving Cross street from Sarah to Charles street, to McNaugher & Co.; grading and paving Marquis alley from Washington avenue to the East End, to Thomas Carson.

THE ALLEGHENY POSTOFFICE.

Some Changes Suggested—Efforts to Increase the Efficiency of the Office.

For some time past Postmaster Myler, of Allegheny, has been endeavoring to have some changes made in the postoffice under his charge and the matter is now before the Department with a reasonable probability that the changes asked will be acceded to. The proposed changes in which the public are especially interested embrace an addition to the force, by which means the office can be kept open until nine o'clock each evening instead of as at present, closing at six. Just now there are but two delivery clerks employed in the office and even with present business they are kept hard at work. With the addition asked, there could be a re-arrangement of the office work, by which some relief would be given to the present overworked employees, and the interests of the public great subserved, by reason of having the office kept open three hours longer than at present.

The matter as we have said has been laid before the Postoffice Department at Washington and as the petition is strongly supported, a favorable answer is anticipated.

Dodds & Caskey,

Importers of Scotch Granite and manufacturers of American Granite in all styles of monumental art, corner Penn avenue and 33d street, Pittsburgh.

THE CHARTER.

Mr. HASTINGS called up the resolution laid on the table at the last meeting, which requests the Governor to sign the new charter of the city of Pittsburgh as passed by the Legislature last winter.

Mr. McNEILL—This is all child's play, and is wasting our time. What have the Councils of Allegheny to do with a charter of Pittsburgh? It ought to be beneath our notice.

Mr. HASTINGS said that it had a great deal to do with Allegheny, as it allows the citizens of Allegheny to vote on the question, this fall, whether they would consolidate with Pittsburgh or not.

Mr. VOEGTLY wanted the matter referred to the City Solicitor.

The Chair decided that the resolution now read, as passed by C. C., but non-concurred in by S. C.

On motion, the action of the former meeting was adhered to and a Committee of Conference with S. C. was appointed.

Mr. KLICKER, resolution for a gas main on Main street, from Sycamore street to Crawford's foundry, Eighth ward. Referred to the Gas Committee.

The daughter who claims the estate says she has positive evidence of the legality of the marriage between her mother and Dr. Mowry and upon this bases her claim.

Safe Investment for Panicky Times.

In view of the panicky condition of monetary affairs many persons have withdrawn their deposits from the banks, and are considerably at a loss as to what disposition to make of the money. It is unsafe to carry it in your pockets or to keep it about your houses, as the pickpockets and house-breakers are fully awake to the condition of affairs and are on the alert to avail themselves of the opportunities offered.

It won't do to invest it in stocks and bonds in the present unsettled and uncertain condition of the market. A balance on deposit in a suspended bank is about as good as the depreciated securities which pay no interest.

We would suggest to all who are looking around for a safe investment of their funds that the tickets for the fourth grand gift concert for the benefit of the Public Library of Kentucky are not all sold yet; that this institution never suspends, and that its gifts are as certain to be paid as certified checks on solvent banks.

THE COURTS.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

SUPREME COURT.

[Chief Justice Read presiding.]

Court met at the usual hour, and the following cases were argued:

Alexander McKee vs. J. C. Bidwell, error to the Court of Common Pleas. Argued by Hampdon & Dalzell for plaintiff in error, and by Purviance contra. On the 26th day of November, 1869, the plaintiff, with Henry Perry, drivers in the employ of John W. Haney, hauled some freight to the plow works of the defendant, corner of Garrison alley and Duquesne way, entering by a door on Garrison alley; there was no one present to receipt the dray book and McKee started towards the office. He saw the light in the office and started directly for that light, but only took a step or two when he fell through the elevator opening and was very badly injured. There was no light to guide the feet of McKee and the opening was entirely unguarded. It was about dusk when the accident occurred.

Plaintiff's counsel contended that the defendant was guilty of negligence in not having the opening barricaded, and that his negligence was implied from the fact that a light was put up immediately after the accident.

Mr. Purviance argued that a notice was posted up prohibiting persons entering the door in the alley and held that McKee had no right to go on the premises in this way; that he was guilty of contributary negligence, in not proceeding more cautiously when he was unacquainted with the premises, and upon this (contributary negligence) the court below non-suited the plaintiff.

Mr. Hampton said the notice prohibiting persons entering at the door, related to outsiders only, and not to persons having business with the defendant, and who had been in the custom of delivering goods at this entrance.

On motion of George Shiras, Esq., Mr. Henry Pepper, of Philadelphia, was duly admitted to practice in this Court.

A number of cases in which D. T. Watson, Esq., appears for the defendants, were passed until next week, in consequence of the absence of Mr. Watson.

C. Hoevelier and Josias Meyers vs. James McCully. Mr. Barton for plaintiff in error and Robert S. Woods contra. Mr. Barton suggested the death of Mr. McCully, and the substitution of the name of Major Frew. This was an action in replevin to recover $2,450, the value of some horses and cows taken and sold for the widening of Highland avenue, the defendant holding that the assessment was illegal. A special verdict was rendered. The Court refused to hear any argument, and reversed the decision of the lower Court, set aside the verdict and directed that a venire de novo issue.

Joseph R. Fricke vs. Poineas Wood. Error to the District Court of Allegheny county. Brown & Lambie appeared for the plaintiff in error and Kerr & Guthrie contra. The Court refused to hear any argument, and reversed the decision of the lower Court and awarded a venire de novo.

James G. Weir et al vs. Arthur Kirk, appeal from the judgment and decree of the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny county. Bill in equity to restrain the defendant from erecting and maintaining a powder house, or magazine, in Indiana township, on the line of the Sharpsburg and Kittaning Turnpike, about two-thirds of a mile north of Sharpsburg. The answer admitted the fact that he was engaged in erecting the powder magazine but denied that there was any reason to apprehend danger to persons or property from an explosion. A preliminary injunction was granted July 15, 1871, and a master appointed. His report was filed May 24th, 1872, and on September 7th the case was argued and a decree made by the Court dismissing the bill. The case was then carried to the Supreme Court on a writ of certiorari. John Barton, Esq., appeared for appellants, and Shiras contra.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.

[Before Judge McCandless.]

In the matter of R. M. Childs, bankrupt, of Allegheny city, the choice of John Ewing, Esq., as assignee was approved.

On motion of H. W. Wier, Esq., John E. Scanlon, Esq., of Ebensburg, being duly qualified, was sworn and admitted to practice on this court.

In the case of James Bevington et al. vs. the steamboat "Charley McDonald," the argument on the rule of the 29th of August last was heard, Mr. Wier appearing for the rule.

A petition was filed by P. Vonvolkensberg & Co., of New York city, for the adjudication in bankruptcy of George M. Seaton, and the usual order to show cause was issued. On petition filed, the Marshal was directed to take possession as provisional assignee, of debtors' property.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

T. J. Keenan, Esq., filed an application for a preliminary injunction in the matter of Owen Cunningham, bankrupt, of Cambria county. Mr. Keenan argued for the injunction and J. E. Scanlon against the same. The injunction, which was to restrain certain execution creditors was refused.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

[Before Judge Sterrett.]

The motion for the preliminary injunction in the case of Lockhart & Frew vs. the Allegheny Valley Railroad was argued and refused by the Court, and the railroad company is now in possession of the property, and using it for the purposes of the company.

CRIMINAL COURT.

[Before Judge Stowe.]

In the case of Police Officer Cunningham, charged with assault and battery, reported yesterday, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. Costs divided.

The first case taken up was that of Patrick Early, charged with larceny on oath of Thomas Reddington. The accused was charged with stealing from plaintiff's pockets greenbacks to the amount of $70. Verdict of guilty with recommendation to mercy.

Patrick McNamara, charged with stealing a pair of pantaloons from Edwin L. Taylor, Verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.

In the case of Henry Goss, charged with horse stealing and reported yesterday, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

The last case on trial was that of James Burk, charged with assault and battery with intent to commit a rape. The defendant is a boy about fifteen years of age, and the little girl is about nine years of age. He was mowing grass in a field near Wilkinsburg when the little girl Agnes Chambers came along, and got a drink at the pump, when, the allegation is, the attempt was made. On trial.

DAMAGES INSISTED UPON.

False Arrest Alleged—Imprisonment and Scandal—Five Thousand Dollars Wanted—The Case Stated.

Yesterday morning George A. Miller, through his attorney, Mr. Barton, Esq., filed papers in the District Court, in which he charges Owen Fitzsimmons, Carson Force, William Force and Morris Miller with false arrest and malicious prosecution. He alleges that on the 4th of March, 1873, the defendants conspired together and made an information against him before Alderman Samuel Anderson on the ground of false pretenses. They complained that he hired a buggy and a span of horses from the firm of Boland & Co., by falsely representing himself to be a member of the firm of Miller, Force & Co. In consequence a warrant was issued and Miller arrested and imprisoned, as he alleges, for a long space of time, to wit, for one hour, when he procured bail for Court. In June last the Court of Quarter Sessions squashed the indictment and Miller was discharged. It is also alleged that on the 1st of March last and at divers other times, the defendants maliciously circulated reports which tended strongly to injure the plaintiff in his business as a merchant tailor and traveling agent. They charged that Miller, while acting as traveling agent, salesman and collector for the firm of Miller, Force & Co., had got drunk in Philadelphia and had visited gambling houses, squandering the money of his employer. The plaintiff put his claim for damages at five thousand dollars. A summons was issued. An action has also been brought by the same plaintiff against the same defendants, to recover some eight hundred dollars on an alleged breach of contract, in which the plaintiff was discharged as salesman for the firm.

IMPROVEMENTS.

The Work on Fifth Avenue.

The work on this avenue is being rapidly pushed toward completion. The grading is almost entirely finished as far as Craft avenue—that work being at present interrupted at that point by the Gas and Water companies laying their pipes. The heaviest portion of the grading is to be found on the hill above Soho bridge, but that work is going on briskly under the direction of Mr. James Hutchison, who has a small army of laborers at his command. The block pavement is being laid at the rate of about one hundred and fifty feet per day—some forty men being engaged at that work, and it is expected that by Saturday evening, it will be entirely finished from Penn avenue to the old car stables in Oakland. A force of workmen are also now engaged in laying down the street car rails from Oakland eastward, and those of the east end may congratulate themselves upon the fact, that the familiar jingle of the street car bells will be heard again in their vicinity within a very few weeks,—if, ind ed, the promises of the company be verified.

When this improvement is made, Pittsburgh will have something of which to feel justly proud. There will at least be one magnificent drive, of miles in length, remarkable for its easy grades and succession of beautiful homes, denoting the presence of that aristocratic elegance and retirement so much boasted of by sister cities, and so much sought for by the visitor in search of the beautiful—but who rarely anticipates the finding of it in a city whose reputation abroad is so inseparably connected with iron and smoke.

Grand Opening of Cloaks, Sacques, Costumes, and Shawls.

Hugus & Hacke will open on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 8th, 9th and 10th inst., a superb collection of Paris and Berlin garments, including Camel Hair, Cashmere, and Diagonal Cloth Redingotes, English Walking Jackets, elegant Costumes in Black Silk, Cashmere, Mohair, and many other desirable fabrics of their own importation.

Fifth avenue and Market street.

"Out, Damned Spot!"—The energetic exclamation of Macbeth is mentally ejaculated by every housewife when confronted by the manifold variety of stains and spots that disfigure articles of household ornament and use. But the "spots" are not so easy to remove by ordinary means. A little Sapolio brought into timely use causes them all to disappear as if by magic, and brings peace and satisfaction to the housewife mind. As cheap as common soap and a hundred times more effective. d&S

STILL SEEKING SUFFRAGE.

Meeting of the Woman Suffrage Association Last Evening—Resolutions Adopted—Miss Matilda Hyndman's Speech.

Last evening the Woman Suffrage Association of Allegheny county, held their first meeting of this season in the Fourth U. P. Church, corner of Seventeenth street and Penn avenue.

Miss Matilda Hyndman, the President of the Society, presided, and Miss Kelly acted as Secretary. Miss Hyndman stated that this was the first meeting of the season, and sought the earnest efforts of the Association in obtaining the repeal of obnoxious laws that now disgrace our statute books, and that deprived women of their rights.

On motion it was resolved that the association meet quarterly instead of monthly as at present, and to hold meetings in the meantime wherever it was found necessary or convenient, in order to aid the cause of Female Suffrage.

RESOLUTIONS.

Miss Jennie Hindman offered the following:

Whereas, Women have no voice in making the laws by which they are governed; therefore,

Resolved, That this Association hereafter use every laudable means, to secure the election of men to the Legislature, Executive and Judicial departments of the government who are pledged to Woman Suffrage, and to prevent the election of men opposed thereto, and

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed for one year, whose duty it shall be to ascertain the opinions of the different candidates and report to the Association, in order that the foregoing resolution may be carried into effect.

Resolved, That this Society commends the action of the School Board of the Fourth ward of Pittsburgh, in appointing a lady principal at the same salary paid to male principals—that by this action they have recognized a most important principle—the justice of giving "equal pay for equal work," irrespective of sex.

Resolved, That the repeated failures of the Temperance Party in our cities, should teach that it needs the votes of women, rather than their efforts, to secure the votes of men: and that it never can be successful till women have the ballot.

DID NOT WANT WOMAN'S ASSISTANCE.

The resolutions evoked much discussion, especially that portion which referred to the temperance cause. Several gentlemen arose and thought that last resolution was entirely unnecessary, that the men could do without the women at the polls in gaining the temperance cause, and that they would yet gain it without their votes. Miss Hyndman showed them where they were mistaken and argued fairly that the cause would never win, till women managed the polls and voted against liquor, and for the protection of their own homes. The resolutions were finally adopted, though much feeling had been shown in the discussion.

Miss Matilda Hyndman then spoke on Woman Suffrage. She advocated the rights of woman in all branches of business and trade. She lauded the action of the Fourth ward School Board in appointing a female principal for their schools and paying her the same salary that they would to a male teacher. She commended their action, as showing that and that the spirit of the age is progressive. She asked should we tread in the old ruts of the past, or prefer the progressive future? Should we follow the beaten tracks of our fathers? Because one man tried to clog the wheels of progress; because he opposed the printing press; because he preferred the slow coaches of the past to the fast running locomotive, and because he was away behind the age, should the millions follow him? No, she held that the questions of to-day were not the questions to be decided now, but in the future. The question of human rights had been a question of the past and is a question of the future to be decided. It is a question that is agitating all civilized nations, in all portions of the Globe. Among the Romans, Greeks, and down to the Anglo Saxon's time, did the voice of woman's rights come, though only in a whisper. But that whisper was only heard as a whisper, till it came down to our forefathers, one hundred years ago. They thought that when they had accomplished their independence they had done all that was necessary, but far from it, they had neglected a very important point. But they had opened this country; and

prison and alms houses opened their doors, and felons came and we welcomed them into a common brotherhood. They came here and became as of one race and prospered, and we grew up a mighty people. When the principles of Government were made, an important portion of the people were forgotten. Twenty million of woman to-day are in the same position that our forefathers were when they threw overboard the tea in Boston Harbor. To day men were justified in holding them in abject slavery, and drop by drop their life blood was sucked away till they left nothing but anguish and misery. The speaker then argued that if woman had the right to vote men could not enact discriminating laws. If she were granted the ballot box

SHE COULD STAND UP AND DEFEND HERSELF,

home and reputation. In every one of the thirty-seven states a woman cannot protect her own wages. She then went on to say that in the United States there were one hundred thousand females teachers; and in Pennsylvania alone there were ten thousand who were not paid the same salary a year, nearly within one million of dollars, as to what men were for the same labor. She argued the ballot was a remedy for all wrongs and she earnestly besought her hearers to lend their aid to the cause of female suffrage. She said it was demanded by every woman in the land, and she hoped the day would come when women should vote. She lauded the American men for their treatment of women, and spoke of them as far above any other nation in this regard. She closed with a strong appeal for the cause she advocated, and sat down amid long and continued applause.

A vote of thanks was given to the Trustees of the church for allowing the use of the building, after which the meeting adjourned.

NEW LIFE FOR THE LANGUID.

Perfect health is vouchsafed to few. Probably ninety people out of every hundred who call themselves healthy have their "turns," of langour, exhaustion, depression of spirits and bodily pain. At these times a wineglassful of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is as refreshin as "the shadow of a rock in a weary land." It invigorates and tests the system and cheers the mind. The effect of the Bitters in cases of nervous debility, produced either by undue physical exertion, over-study, intense anxiety, or any other cause, is wonderfully reviving and invigorating. In fact, this healthful vegetable restorative possesses medicinal properties which entitle it to the rank of an article of prime necessity, and it should be kept on hand in every dwelling, and promptly taken as a remedy for all the minor ailments as well as for the more serious complaints.

THE OLD
"Bank Exchange" Restaurant,
ON THIRD AVENUE,
Has been undergoing a course of repairs; indeed, it has been almost renovated, and looks as gay and bright as if it were yet in its youth. It has always been the place of good cheer, and its old and numerous patrons will still find the old-time comfort and hospitality within its walls. Another matter (we beg leave to say in confidence to the "good men and true" who have been used from "time immemorial" to resort to this ancient inn) is that the "old man" is home again. Yes, they will again be greeted by the good-natured smile, the pleasant word and jolly face of good old HENRY SCHILD, who again undertakes the management of the good old place. Under his superintendence the patrons of the house will receive the best attention. Their table will be supplied with all the dainties and delicacies of the season, and their thirst quenched with liquors that cannot be surpassed.
